GOV. EASLEY APPOINTS SELLS TO CAPITAL FACILITIES FINANCE AGENCY

RALEIGH – Gov. Mike Easley has appointed G. Frank Sells of Mount Airy to the North Carolina Capital Facilities Finance Agency Board of Directors.

Sells is a self-employed education consultant, former president of Surry Community College and superintendent of public schools for Stokes County. He is a member of the Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital Board, the Mount Airy Rotary Club and Surry Arts Council Board. He received a Bachelor's degree in psychology and education from Milligan College in Elizabethton, Tenn., a Master's degree in education at East Tennessee State University in Johnson City, and a Doctorate in educational administration from Virginia Tech in Blacksburg.

The board provides the benefits of tax-exempt financing to private institutions of higher education in the state of North Carolina. The board has seven members, each serving a four-year term. The governor appoints three members. The Speaker of the House and Senate President Pro Tempore each appoint one member. The state treasurer and state auditor also serve on the board.
